If it has risen faster and higher and if it flies much longer. Then these may be the first G units made by man.

I simply wish to convey the idea that every Planet or grain of sand containing a center of Gravity sends out a repelling force as well as a pulling force.
These forces hold the Earth + Sun, "Locked", so the Earth may be pulled many miles closer to the Sun one day and Pushed many miles away the next, but can get only so close + only so far away.

Thus all G units are not only safe from colliding with each other but are mostly locked in definite orbits.

Since this idea (or theory) fits in and explains many of the flying saucers seen here in the States I am
